The WCCs take place annually and are the culmination of local and regional events hosted by sanctioned Competition Bodies from around the world. Catch up with performances on the WCC YouTube channel. The coveted title of World Coffee Champion can be a pathway to global coffee fame, with winners going on to run globally-renowned coffee businesses and ventures.

This year's World Barista Championship (WBC) and World Brewers Cup (WBrC) were especially exciting as several format changes have been introduced, as overseen by the Competitions Strategic Committee—a volunteer leadership group tasked with developing strategic initiatives that support the competitions community and keeping the WCCs moving forward.

At the WBrC, these included changes to evaluation criteria to refocus on evaluating a competitor's coffee brewing skills, and the introduction of a semi-finals round. At the WBC, competitors can now prepare their milk beverage course using plant-based beverages or other animals' milk, and can brew their espresso using a range of group head temperatures. The WBC updates introduce two new types of scoring scales, which along with the updated WBrC evaluation criteria, better align with the new SCA Coffee Value Assessment.

The Athens WCCs are supported by returning top sponsors including Barista Attitude, Victoria Arduino, Cafetto, BRITA, BWT water+more, Sage, Hario, Mazzer, and Loumidis Papagalos. We are also delighted to have Alpro join as the first WBC plant-based beverage sponsor. We look forward to working with them again in Athens and seeing the innovations that these partnerships facilitate over the coming years.

About Mazzer

Mazzer is a family company based near Venice, Italy. Founded as a precision mechanic workshop between the two World Wars, the company wouldn't be called "Mazzer" until 1948, when Luigi Mazzer began producing professional grade coffee grinders and burrs. Mazzer does not only assemble, but also internally designs and produces all components connected to the grinding process in order to guarantee the highest level of quality and durability of grinders and burrs. Mazzer has the production capacity of a highly-specialized team of technicians, as well as a workshop with the latest machinery and technologies, allowing to produce very complex components that are then transformed into simple tools for the barista.
